

EPIC’S Copyright Policy

Epic Decorations (Pty) Ltd (“EPIC”) respects the intellectual property rights of others and expects its users to do the same.

It is Epic’s policy, in appropriate circumstances and at its discretion, to disable and/or terminate the accounts of users who repeatedly infringe or are repeatedly charged with infringing the copyrights or other intellectual property rights of others.

A copyright owner, person authorized to act on behalf of one, or person authorized to act under any exclusive allegations of copyright infringements on the site(s) by completing the following DMCA Notice of Alleged Infringement and delivering to Epic’s Designated Copyright Agent. Upon receipt of this notice, Epic will expeditiously remove or block access to the allegedly infringing content, notify the alleged third-party infringer of the same, and provide the third-party an opportunity to submit a counter-notice to dispute the alleged infringement. If a counter-notice is submitted, Epic will promptly forward it to the complainant and restore the removed or blocked content within 10-14 business days, unless the complainant submits evidence that it has filed a lawsuit against the alleged third-party infringer regarding the allegedly infringing content.
